

Marwan Chamaa's career began in the mid eighties and continues to metamorphose to this day. Throughout his artistic journey, Marwan's muse has always been his environment. Marwan, currently living in the U.S.A., resided in many diverse settings such as Munich, New York, and Beirut. As his renditions of his surroundings have been reinvented in terms of styles, he has always remained true to capturing and interpreting his world as he sees it to his audience.

His exposure to the various cultures he encountered, formed him into the eclectic versatile artist he is today. Marwan has the spirit of a global citizen but never forgetting his Middle Eastern roots.

Marwan's interest in art started at a very young age, during elementary and throughout college, art studies were his favorite subject. Initially a self-taught art-curious individual, Marwan decided to enlarge his scope of art-technique and knowledge by studying graphic design/ fine arts at the American University of Beirut, Beirut University College, and the Corcoran School of Art.
